

Given to you are eyes to see the rising sun are ears to hear the morning song is a voice to tell your story is a mind to find your way
Given to you
is the earth to set your feet upon are the stars to fill your eyes is the very next beat of your heart is sleep regeneration

All great gifts and grace Given to you to be given a human face

are hands to help and hold and touch is the beauty and the sorrow is a little bit of living fire are the choices of tomorrow
Given to you
are the awaiting passages are companions on the way are the questions you're the answer to is each and every day
